The Concept of Election

Goddard taught that we are all elected by God to experience different aspects of life. He said, "You are elected to experience the fullness of life. You are not here to suffer, but to enjoy." He believed that we are all born with a unique purpose, and that our experiences in life are designed to help us fulfill that purpose.

Goddard also taught that we have the power to choose our experiences. He said, "You are the creator of your own reality. You can choose to experience whatever you want." He believed that we can change our consciousness to create the reality we desire.

Changing Your Consciousness

Goddard taught that we can change our consciousness by using our imagination. He said, "The imagination is the door to the subconscious mind. When you imagine something, you are planting a seed in your subconscious mind. That seed will eventually grow into reality." He believed that we can use our imagination to create anything we want in our lives.

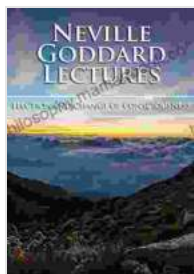

Goddard also taught that we can change our consciousness by using affirmations. He said, "Affirmations are positive statements that you repeat to yourself over and over again. They help to program your subconscious mind with the beliefs that you want to have." He believed that we can use affirmations to change our beliefs about ourselves and the world around us.

The Election and Change of Consciousness

Goddard taught that the election and change of consciousness are two sides of the same coin. He said, "The election is the process by which we are chosen to experience different aspects of life. The change of consciousness is the process by which we change our beliefs and create the reality we desire." He believed that we are all elected to experience the fullness of life, and that we can change our consciousness to create the reality we desire.

Neville Goddard's teachings on election and change of consciousness offer a powerful way to create the reality we desire. By understanding that we are all elected by God to experience different aspects of life, and that we can change our consciousness to create the reality we desire, we can begin to live the life we have always dreamed of.
